In signal processing, a digital filter is a system that performs mathematical operations on a sampled, discrete-time signal to reduce or enhance certain aspects of that signal. This is in contrast to the other major type of electronic filter, the analog filter, which is an electronic circuit operating on continuous-time analog signals.. A digital filter system usually consists of an analog-to ...

What is meant by Inclusive Design? Whilst it can be easy and tempting to build solutions based upon our own needs and experiences, if you are designing solutions which will impact other people (specific customers, colleagues or the general public), it is imperative to consider the needs of different users so that you do not unintentionally exclude anyone.
