DMC's color cards aren't so much a conversion chart as they are a great reference tool. They are available in two versions. The most common that you'll find is a printed card showing all of the colors, but if you order from their website, they also offer a version with actual thread samples for more accurate color matching.

The earliest known written reference to the tapestry is a 1476 inventory of Bayeux Cathedral, but its origins have been the subject of much speculation and controversy.. French legend maintained the tapestry was commissioned and created by Queen Matilda, William the Conqueror's wife, and her ladies-in-waiting. Indeed, in France, it is occasionally known as "La Tapisserie de la Reine Mathilde ...
